At E C Company, we believe all accidents and injuries are preventable. Our top-down commitment to ZERO accidents and injuries translates into savings for our customers. The prevention of accidents and injuries is achieved through control of both the working environment and our actions and attitudes. One of the company's most valued assets is the combined knowledge and experience of its supervisors, foremen, and craft personnel who accept their responsibilities to prevent accidents and injuries while working. Safety is everyone's personal responsibility. At E C, safety is a part of our company - not an appendage. Every employee understands that safe performance requires careful planning. Planning creates a safe workplace and promotes efficient performance in all aspects of our work. A company that has an effective safety program will have a working environment in which operations can be conducted economically, efficiently and, above all, safely.
